

ET Profile

Name:	Eran of Vega
Race:	Vegan
Home Planet/Star:	Vega (Alpha Lyrae)
Dimension:	5th
Calling:	Help Vegan Counsel
Service to Earth:	None in particular
Earth Incarnations:	none

Biographical Information

Me: Eran of Vega, Ivo's brother.

I hear, "Hello."

I'm seeing that you look like Ivo, but you don't.

Eran: I'm me.

Me: I'm seeing more of your mother in you, and some of your dad. Now they tell me you're only about 50 of our years old.

Eran: I am.

Me: Ivo is 350 years old so he's really your very much older brother.

Eran: I had a life to finish up before I was to incarnate with Toran and Leyeela, so that's why that took so long. Besides that, we live to be very very old, so we have a lot of time to bear children. It's not a big deal. You have such a short time span to bear children, from about 20 to 45, and that's not very long.

Me: No, it's not. You have to find the right person before you're 30 more or less. At least for women.

Eran: Yes.

Me: Can we talk about you a bit?

Eran: Sure.

Me: Are you ever up in the ship with Ivo?

Eran: Oh yes.

Me: Would you consider a career with the Galactic Federation at some point?

Eran: I would. Right now I'm working with the Vegan Council, helping out with their projects. They have need of manpower as well, and my job is to help create obstacles for warring worlds so they don't harm each other.

Me: I heard about that. It was a wall that appeared and absorbed the energy every time they sent a rocket over to the neighbouring world. How ingenious!

Eran: I guess it could be. You don't have war with the neighbouring worlds so you wouldn't think of that.

Me: No, we war with neighbouring countries. It would work in the same way here.

Eran: They're going to be putting up a field on earth so no more objects can be launched to other countries.

Me: Yes, peace will have to be forced first. They like their wars around here.

Eran: As far as the other projects I've worked on, we have created gateways between worlds that sought out more connection with each other. We can even create wormholes for easier access as well. So I've done some of that.

Other jobs? We have DNA work we have to do, I guess you'd call it biology, and we help ailing races get on their feet again with DNA injections, or races that are prone to certain problems we find the DNA that will help solve the problem and give it to them. We've had people breed with other worlds in order to strengthen their strain of DNA, you name it. We problem solve like this all the time.

Me: And you're involved in that.

Eran: The council does, yeah. You do that work when you actually remember being yourself. LOL

Me: I know. What a luxury. Remembering who you are.

Eran: I'm due to join Ivo on his ship soon, and I'll be working with him on your space port.

Me: Oh really? I can't wait to meet my parents and your parents and the whole family! It'll be so exciting for me. The only one I really have a sense of is my brother, Merton, because he flies a ship overhead all the time. So I've seen his ship. Not him, though, but his saucer I've seen because it guards me.

IMPLANT COMMUNICATIONS

Eran: Ivo has solicited to have me work alongside him on this job because he feels we have many similarities and it would be like having double his brain to get the job done.

Me: That's pretty smart.

Eran: Although I'm not as schooled as he is.

Me: I sense you're single, Eran.

Eran: I am.

Me: Hmm. Maybe I can set you up with some nice earth girls.

Eran: LOL Sure. I'll date them.

Me: We can get a second Vegan/Earthling pair mated here.

Eran: I have a twin flame, she's still young, though. She was just born.

Me: Ah yeah, same as Akon and Gladelia. They are different in age as well.

Good, so I get to meet you when I get the house.

Eran: Yes. It won't be long now.

Me: I sense it has to do with our timelines doing the final split; if that's the Event or not I don't know – I don't even care – but they have to split out. And then I can get the house. To me, the Event is the last photon blast of the sun to push 4D earth into 5D, but some say otherwise.

Eran: It's all an event, really. The whole galaxy is watching what's going on here.

Me: So I've heard. I guess there are people who are tasked with reporting back to their home planets?

Eran: Oh yes, we have officials who do that. Some talk to you or other channelers from earth and they report back to their people.

Me: Oh. Okay.

Well, thank you for your time, Eran. I'm really excited to be meeting you soon, and getting on with this project. It will be an adventure.

Eran: Thanks, Sharon. It will be. We'll see you soon. Much love.